

About Me

Dr. Robyn V. White: A Beacon of Health Advocacy and Resilience

Born in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Dr. Robyn V. White, DNP-, FNP- BC embarked on a remarkable journey from a Bachelor of Science in Exercise Physiology at Temple University to a transformative career in nursing, fueled by her enrollment in the United States Navy Health Professions Scholarship Program. Graduating from York College of Pennsylvania in 2005, she was commissioned as a U.S. Navy Officer, serving at the forefront of medical care in various high-stakes environments.

From the National Naval Medical Center in Maryland to critical deployments in Kuwait and Haiti, Dr. White delivered exceptional care under pressure, managing complex trauma and critical care in both military and civilian capacities. Her leadership shone as she coordinated pediatric care on the USNS Comfort following the devastating hurricane in Haiti, and later as she managed a pediatric clinic at Fort Belvoir Community Hospital.

Completing her Doctorate of Nursing Practice in 2017 from the Uniformed Services University, Dr. White today specializes in women's health as a board-certified Family Nurse Practitioner. Her accolades include a Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal among other commendations, underscoring her dedication and skill.

More than her professional achievements, Dr. White is driven by a mission to empower women globally, offering health solutions that nurture mind, body, and soul. She is a devoted mother to her two children, Rayna and Jayson, and cherishes life with her supportive husband, Jason.

Dr. White's voice is not just her own, but an echo of every woman seeking to thrive through adversity and health challenges.
